turn left through the gap just after the "Bends in the Road sign")

Get ready for this summer's Trec competitions & become more familiar with your map!

1 - Learn to read a map for Trec – suitable for complete beginners

2 – Learn how to find places on the map using grid references & how to navigate using bearings – suitable for those with a bit of experience
Not scary - just very useful !!

Or just come & practice!!!

Programme – 2 sections each tailored to those doing the training

- 1 - Indoors, we'll sit down and learn about map and compass. How to work out where you are and where you want to be, how to mark up your map and how to work out how fast you are going. Then we'll take a walk to put it all into practice.
- 2 - Indoors, we'll learn how to pinpoint grid references on the map, practice that skill & learn how to find the best route to pass through a set of grid references. We'll revise taking a bearing with a compass & see how a bearings section is likely to be set in a competition; then we'll go outside & put it into practice.

This is unmounted training, so you don't need to worry about your horse.

Everyone:-

Please wear suitable clothing for a walk outdoors & bring a compass (if you have one). For those doing option 2, please also bring a roamer (if you have one). Most compasses have roamers built into their base plates but it is usually easier to have a separate clear plastic one for marking the grid points - some will be available for sale at the training session at £2.50 each.

Also - please remember to bring pens & a mug (for tea/coffee).
